

The diagram shows a two-page spread. The left page is a white rectangle with a thin black border. The right page is a white rectangle with a thin black border. A vertical dashed line runs down the center, separating the two pages. On the left side of the left page, there are three horizontal arrows pointing left towards the page edge. The top arrow is pink and points to the left edge. The middle arrow is green and points to a vertical line inside the page. The bottom arrow is black and points to a vertical line further inside the page. To the right of each arrow is a line of text explaining its function.
